On Saturday, September 24, 2022, the International Chodský Pes Show was held in Chodská Lhota in the Domažlice region. A total of 418 Chodský Pes dogs were entered, with judging taking place in five rings.

The judging panel included Milan Krinke, Miroslav Václavík, Otakar Vondrouš, Petra Márová, and Ivanka Soldánová. The largest class was the Open Class, with 89 bitches entered.

Following the formal opening of the show, judging began in the individual rings. Dogs and bitches competed in classes ranging from puppies and juniors to working, open, winners, veterans, and honor classes.

The Chodský Pes has a long history in the Czech lands, dating back to the 13th century. The Chods used these tough, tenacious dogs to guard and defend the borderland between Bohemia and Bavaria. They were also valued as herding and tracking dogs.

The breed became an enduring symbol of the Chods. It appears in the famous illustrations of Mikoláš Aleš accompanying Alois Jirásek's novel Psohlavci, as well as in the symbolism of the Border Guard and Czech Scouting. Writer Jindřich Šimon Baar also described the breed in his accounts of the history of Chodsko, particularly around the village of Klenčí.

After the regular judging, the best dogs and bitches advanced to the afternoon's final competitions. Before the finals, spectators enjoyed demonstrations of dog sports and activities, including work with a Prague Ratter, Dog Frisbee, obedience, dog dancing, and defence.

The finals began with the World Hope competition for the best puppies and juniors. The winners were Haatan z Konické skály and Uraka Vita Kanina in the puppy class, and Jumbo Jet z Dašického zátiší and Dee z Podbrdského kraje in the junior class.

The Best Pair competition followed, with six pairs entered. The winning pair belonged to Anita Trmalová: Artu Dytu Whinedog and Misty z Letinské kovárny.

The Best Working Dog was Wurzy Bryvilsár, and the Best Breeding Group was the Bryvilsár group, owned by Jana Kudrnáčová.

The title of World Winner went to Wurzy Bryvilsár, owned by Jana Majerová. Among the bitches, the World Winner title went to Tulinka z Malého údolí, owned by Veronika Borovičková.

The final awards were then presented. Baltazar Noční Hlídka, owned by Klára Kukačová, was named Best Junior, while the nine-year-old Fren z Dašického Zátiší, owned by Irena Krejčíková, was Best Veteran.

Tulinka z Malého údolí also received the title of Best of Opposite Sex. Finally, Wurzy Bryvilsár was named Best of Breed and overall winner of the show, completing a remarkable series of victories for the dog and his owner, Jana Majerová.

Time stamps:

0:00–0:56 — Introduction and opening
2:37–4:22 — Judging begins
5:12–7:00 — History of the Chodský Pes
7:20–8:44 — Afternoon finals and demonstrations
8:50–9:27 — World Hope competition
9:27–9:51 — Best Pair
9:51–10:01 — Best Working Dog
10:04–10:22 — Best Breeding Group
10:25–11:10 — World Winners
11:15–12:44 — Grand Finale and final titles